Letter from the chairman

Dear Friends and Supporters,

2015 was a year of great change and growth for the PCRF. We received our fifth straight -4 star rating from Charity Navigator, matching only 6% of all non-profits achieving such a score. While our focus and goals remained the same – to identify and treat every sick and injured Arab child in the Middle East in need of medical care, regardless of nationality or religion - we expanded our efforts also into bigger programs and projects that can have a larger impact on the needs of children, particularly those in the besieged Gaza Strip.

In particular, we strengthened many programs in Gaza that came as a result of the attacks there in the summer of 2014. We intensified a mental health program in Gaza to help heal the children who have lived through many traumatic experiences, particularly in the summer of 2014, when thousands of kids were killed, injured or made homeless there. We continue to work with local partners to reach the most marginalized kids and to provide them expert help. For those students whose homes were destroyed and were facing their final Towjihi exams to finish high school, we established an after-school tutoring program in the name of the late Rachel Corrie to provide them the help they need to overcome the loss of their homes and to focus on their futures. Hundreds of children were made orphans in the summer of 2014, and our monthly sponsorship program for them enables their surviving families to better care for them.

In addition to these important projects and programs in Gaza, the PCRF remains the main NGO in the Middle East sending kids abroad for free care that they otherwise cannot get in their country. Dozens of children from Palestine, Lebanon, Jordan, Syria and Iraq were sent all over the world for surgery and treatment that helped them to overcome their diseases or injuries, while being cared for by volunteers from all backgrounds. Thousands more children from the Middle East had surgery by hundreds of volunteer doctors from North and South America, Europe, the Middle East and Asia, who gave their time and skills to operate in hospitals throughout Gaza, the West Bank and Lebanon.

Our main goal remains building up the services in the health sector in Palestine to better improve the quality of care that children get from their own doctors in their own hospitals. We have made many major efforts in this area in 2015, including the trainings that our visiting doctors provide on missions, and more direct efforts in areas like pediatric orthopedic surgery, where we are training residents through our Palestinian Orthopedic and Educational Training (POET) program. In pediatric oncology, we are training staff from the Huda Al Masri Pediatric Cancer Department. in Beit Jala Hospital at the King Hussein Cancer Center in Amman, Jordan, and the staff from Gaza, where we are building a new pediatric cancer department, are going to Beit Jala for training. In April, we opened up the Huda Al Masri Healing Garden in Beit Jala Hospital, the first and only of it's kind in any hospital in Palestine. Also at the Palestine Medical Complex in Ramallah, we expanded the pediatric ICU and began a new program to bring in teams in pediatric cardiac surgery, while also continuing our efforts at the European Gaza Hospital in the same area. We are building the first and only pediatric palliative care program in the West Bank, and plan to expand that to Gaza in the future.

2015 was a year of great challenges in the Middle East. The war in Syria continued to create a huge humanitarian crisis, particularly for children in the health care sector. In the West Bank, a new round of violence in the fall has left hundreds of young people dead and injured, while the siege in Gaza has resulted in dire shortages in medicine and the ability to provide medical care for children there. We are working hard as a nonpolitical, nonprofit humanitarian relief organization to address these challenges, and to continue to bring hope, healing and help to the millions of children throughout the region who are being negatively impacted by these political and economic forces. We thank all of our donors, volunteers, and supporters who make this work possible, and hope that you will continue to support our efforts as we go through 2016 with the same energy and determination to heal the wounds of war and occupation in the Middle East.

In solidarity,

Dr. Musa Nasir

Letter from President Jimmy Carter

August 11, 2015

I commend The Palestine Children's Relief Fund (PCRF) for over 20 years of dedication to healing the wounds of war, occupation, and poverty for children in the Middle East by providing urgent medical and humanitarian care to thousands of children.

As a result of Gaza's ongoing siege, many children living there are deprived of basic needs and suffer from inadequate access to healthcare. PCRF's Lending Little Hearts a Hand Campaign in the Gaza Strip seeks to remedy some of these issues by constructing a Pediatric Cancer Unit.

I encourage those interested in relieving the suffering of children and promoting peace to support PCRF's Lending Little Hearts a Hand Campaign.

Sincerely,

Letter from Charity Navigator

Steve Sosebee Palestine Children's Relief Fund P.O. Box 1926 Kent. OH 44240

Dear Steve Sosebee:

On behalf of Charity Navigator, I wish to congratulate Palestine Children's Relief Fund on achieving our coveted 4-star rating for sound fiscal management and commitment to accountability and transparency.

As the nonprofit sector continues to grow at an unprecedented pace, savvy donors are demanding more accountability, transparency and quantifiable results from the charities they choose to support with their hard-earned dollars. In this competitive philanthropic marketplace, Charity Navigator, America's premier charity evaluator, highlights the fine work of efficient, ethical and open charities. Our goal in all of this is to provide donors with essential information needed to give them greater confidence in the charitable choices they make.

Based on the most recent information available, we have issued a new rating for your organization. We are proud to announce Palestine Children's Relief Fund has earned our fifth consecutive 4-star rating. Receiving four out of a possible four stars indicates that your organization adheres to good governance and other best practices that minimize the chance of unethical activities and consistently executes its mission in a fiscally responsible way. Only 6% of the charities we rate have received at least 5 consecutive 4-star evaluations, indicating that Palestine Children's Relief Fund outperforms most other charities in America. This "exceptional" designation from Charity Navigator differentiates Palestine Children's Relief Fund from its peers and demonstrates to the public it is worthy of their trust.

Forbes, Business Week, and Kiplinger's Financial Magazine, among others, have profiled and celebrated our unique method of applying data-driven analysis to the charitable sector. We evaluate ten times more charities than our nearest competitor and currently attract more visitors to our website than all other charity rating groups combined, thus making us the leading charity evaluator in America. Our data shows that users of our site gave more than they planned to before viewing our findings, and in fact, it is estimated that last year Charity Navigator influenced approximately $10 billion in charitable gifts.

We believe our service will enhance your organization's fundraising and public relations efforts. Our favorable review of Palestine Children's Relief Fund's fiscal health and commitment to accountability & transparency is now visible on our website.

We wish you continued success in your charitable endeavors.

Sincerely,

Michael Thatcher President and CEO

Treatment Abroad Cases

The PCRF is the main organization in the Middle East arranging free medical care for sick and injured children who cannot be treated in their home countries. We thank the many doctors and hospitals who treated our children on a humanitarian basis in 2015, and also the hundreds of other volunteers from all over the world who gave their time as host families, translators, and who helped in countless other ways while our children were abroad for treatment. We help children based on their needs, and not based on their religion, nationality or with any political intention.

"I lost my legs during the last war on Gaza (2014) and since then I couldn't do anything alone. I couldn't believe what's happened to me, my entire life as I know it has changed. Now I am so happy after I received my new legs through PCRF. Because I can walk on my own, go to school and help my mother as I used to. Before traveling to Jeddah, I had to use the wheelchair all the time and I couldn't play or walk on my own. Now I can do everything like anyone else."

Weam Al Astal, 10 years old, Gaza.

"I couldn't really grasp the idea of losing my leg, let alone for it to actually happen. Knowing I had cancer was one thing, and dealing with losing my leg was another. And since I lost my father 6 years ago, I couldn't imagine being able to travel abroad considering such trip's expenses. That's why, for me, it was life-changing that I was able to travel to the U.S., get a prosthetic leg and be welcomed by different people so warmly. And now I'm able to do my daily activities on my own, and most importantly, I'm able to play my favorite sport again, which is soccer."

Anan Fahed, 16 years old, Jericho.

"Being a host family was the best decision I have ever made. It not only changed Zahraa's life, but ours as well! Greatest learning experience for my family and PCRF couldn't have made the process easier! Thank you for this opportunity and for trusting us!"

With love, The Ghannam

Medical Missions

The PCRF continues to be the main humanitarian relief organization in the Middle East providing surgery in local hospitals by sending teams of volunteer doctors and nurses there to operate on children, as well as providing training and experience to local staff. Over the past five years, over 400 medical teams consisting of thousands of volunteers from all over the world have given their time and experience to travel to the Middle East through the PCRF to treat thousands of children in pediatric cardiac surgery, neurosurgery, orthopedics, plastic and reconstructive surgery, maxillofacial surgery, dental, urology, oncology and many other areas of need. These missions reduce the waiting list of patients, saves millions of dollars for the ministry of health, but more importantly, it lessens the hardship of families and patients who otherwise would have to wait for care. We thank the hundreds of doctors and nurses who came to the Middle East in 2015 to give their time and energy away from their homes, families and work to help our kids.

[&]quot;I have worked with the PCRF for 17 years and it has been a great privilege to contribute to the care of so many Palestinian children in need of cardiac surgical care. I am hugely impressed by the kindness of the Palestinian people and also by the massive achievements of the PCRF in so many areas of healthcare."

"This year was my 7th trip to Palestine with the PCRF. I'm so proud to be associated with an organization that is so committed to improving the lives of Palestinian children. The PCRF is a unique organization, because they truly are a development organization, and are instrumental in building local capability and infrastructure in the healthcare sector in Palestine while also delivering an enormous amount of much needed care. They're also incredible in that they truly believe, down to a person, that nothing is impossible, and that what seems impossible is just another challenge in the many they face daily in completing their mission. They're also a group that is focused on self improvement, and actively solicit feedback from us to streamline what we do. Lastly, the PCRF treats its volunteers like family. Their warmth and genuine concern with your comfort while on mission is something special, and for me, it's obvious that this is part of the ethos of the organization, because it's the same way that they treat their employees and their patients. Honestly, I couldn't be more honored than to associated with the PCRF and I look forward to a long and productive relationship with them."

"I have had the privilege to work with this outstanding NGO over the last year and a half and I have nothing but positive things to say about it. Prior to my first visit, given my limited experience and knowledge of Palestine and its amazing people at that time, I had some initial concerns. Those concerns were short-lived due to the diligent coordination by passionate PCRF staff who took care of every step of the process. Because of this, I was able to focus on the reason why I came: to see and treat children with orthopaedic problems who desperately needed our help. Whether it was in the screening clinic, the operating room, or on the wards, PCRF staff were a constant presence making sure the clinical encounters went extremely smoothly and helping to support the patients as well. In addition, my experience in Palestine opened my eyes to a beautiful country with unbelievably hospitable people. I cherish my experiences there and look forward to going back in partnership with PCRF."

"Over the many years I have been privileged to work in Palestine, particularly with the incredibly dedicated and compassionate PCRF staff on the ground, I have received the most precious gifts in life. This has given me energy to strengthen my commitment to address larger mental health needs in Palestine, not only to alleviate suffering but also to raise awareness and provide a voice for a people who have endured unimaginable trauma and injustice. I see this work as a responsibility and a privilege, to provide care and advocate for the most marginalized people in our society."

"I've been on over 15 medical missions to Palestine as part of a PCRF team. Organizing international medical service can be intimidating and scary to some but not with PCRF. They handle everything from issues of travel, safety, lodging, and all of the legal permitting from the ministry of health. In short, they allow me to concentrate on my profession to serve the medical needs of the children while they take care of everything else. They make me look like a hero when all I am doing is just my job. 15 missions down and hopefully 50 more to go. PCRF is truly making a positive difference in people's live and I am proud to serve under their name."

Humanitarian Projects

2015 Humanitarian Projects

In 2015, the PCRF expanded most in the area of providing urgent humanitarian aid for sick, poor and needy children, particularly in the Gaza Strip. We also expanded more projects for Syrian refugee children in Lebanon. Our humanitarian projects are privately funded and mostly are through crowd funding online. These projects included:

Sponsorship Program Statistics 2015

Orphans and War Injured Sponsorship Beneficiaries: 192 children

One-Time Sponsorship Beneficiaries: 280 children

The Orphan & War Injured Sponsorship Project: 192 children in the Gaza Strip are being sponsored by donors abroad for their monthly humanitarian needs following the attacks of 2014, where they lost a parent from bombings.

One-time Sponsorship Project: 280 children were sponsored throughout the Middle East for medicine, medical devices, surgery and other humanitarian aid through crowd funding and donors abroad, to enable them to get the care that they needed, but which their families could not afford for them.

Monthly Sponsorship Beneficiaries: 325 children

Tutoring Program

The Monthly Sponsorship Program: 325 children throughout Lebanon, the West Bank and the Gaza Strip, who suffer from chronic diseases and medical conditions that required medicine, supplies and other humanitarian aid, which their families are too poor to provide them independently. The PCRF does not give cash donations to families, but rather provides these to the families through our own staff on the ground.

The Rachel Corrie Gaza Children's Educational Initiative: 196 children in the Gaza Strip, who lost their homes in the attacks of the summer of 2014, are enrolled in an after-school tutoring program to help them prepare for their final exams and to have a better future. This is through donors abroad and online crowd funding.

Urgent Gaza Relief

Throughout 2015, the PCRF did many large distributions of humanitarian aid for children in Gaza, including wheelchairs, winter clothing, eyeglasses, medicine and other aid that helped thousands of children get the support that they needed, but otherwise had no access to.

Summer Camps

The PCRF sponsored several summer camps in the Gaza Strip and the West Bank in 2015, to provide disabled, poor and handicapped children a chance to participate in social and educational activities. These also included three summer camps with the Center for Mind Body Medicine (CMBM) in Gaza for children suffering from PTSD, as well as summer camps for cancer children at the Huda Al Masri Healing Garden in Beit Jala.

The Pediatric Cardiac Surgery Program in the Palestine Medical Complex

In 2015, the PCRF initiated a large-scale project to expand the pediatric ICU in the Bahraini Hospital in Ramallah to enable the building of the West Bank's first and only public pediatric cardiac surgery program for children who are born with congenital heart disease. This included not only the construction of a new ICU expansion, but providing a million dollars worth of medical equipment and supplies to the hospital to enable the building of a pediatric cardiac program there.

The EGH Program

Despite the siege in Gaza, and the challenge of getting volunteers into Gaza, managed to continue to send some surgery teams to the European Gaza Hospital to provide open-heart surgery on children who otherwise have no local care available. This project is being overseen by Dr. Stefano Luisi from Italy, who has lead dozens of missions to Palestine through the PCRF over the past ten years.

The Pediatric Mental Health Project

Hundreds of children throughout the Gaza Strip are being provided treatment and other support to help address their mental health needs resulting from the attacks in Gaza in the summer of 2014. This project is being overseen by volunteer pediatric psychiatrist from the USA, Dr. Bahar Hashemi, and includes the support of Cycling4Gaza, and includes on-ground cooperation with the Center for Mind Body Medicine (CMBM) and the Gaza Community Mental Health Programme (GCMHP). The activities in this project include ground counseling, summer camps, one-on-one counseling and treatment, as well as providing medicine for poor patients and the hiring and training of new staff there for the sake of expanding the project.

Special Events

The PCRF depends on the support of volunteeers from all over the world to support our relief efforts. Often our volunteers will organize special events to raise funds and awareness of our work in the Middle East. Some of the more notable efforts in 2015 were the Goodwill Journey across the globe by Wissam Al Jayyoussi, Cycling4Gaza in Holland, Team Palestine for PCRF's participation in many global sporting events, such as the Chicago Marathon, the IMPI Challenge in Cape Town, the Dubai Marathon, and sponsoring a conference in Beirut for training medical professionals from Gaza.

Huda Al Masri Pediatric Cancer Department

Annual Report

Huda Al Masri Pediatric Cancer Department

After the passing of our co-founder and head social worker, Huda Al Masri, to Leukemia in July, 2009, the Palestine Children's Relief Fund took on a major endeavor - to build up local pediatric cancer services for children throughout the West Bank and Gaza Strip to be treated locally, without having to cross checkpoints or to go abroad for care that is expensive to the Palestinian government and a severe hardship on the child and his or her parents. In April, 2013 the PCRF opened the first and only pediatric cancer dept. at the Beit Jala hospital, named after Huda Al Masri. Since the opening, hundreds of Palestinian children from the occupied territories have had free cancer treatment there at a very high level and with excellent results. We continue to support the department by providing training for the doctors and nurses through visiting missions to the department.

"Working with the PCRF has provided me with a sense of fulfillment beyond what I could have imagined. The PCRF is unique as an organization in that you can physically see the product of your efforts materialized on the ground; they do high quality, efficient work, and they know their community well. Seeing the energy of the chapter volunteers, and the utmost professionalism and hospitality of the staff on the ground has energized me to become more and more involved over time; I've found that the PCRF quickly transforms from being a volunteer position, to becoming, to some extent, an essential part of one's life. I look forward to continuing to work with this incredible organization to provide some relief to the occupation's most vulnerable victims: the children of Palestine."

Volunteers to the Department

Dr. Mike Absalon and Dr. Robert Frenck, pediatric oncologists and infection disease specialists from Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center in Ohio, visited Beit Jala and Gaza in March, to help support the continued training and treatment of children and staff.

Dr. Maria José Ortega Acosta, In April, this pediatric oncologist from the Facultativo Especialista de Área de Pediatría in Unidad de Oncohematología Infantil de Hospital Universitario Virgen de las Nieves de Granada, Spain spent a week volunteering in the department.

Dr. Jeffrey Maguire, Dr. Annie Hess and Dr. Ethan Craig: In June, these volunteers from the University of Iowa College of Medicine and Tulane University School of Medicine, New Orleans, LA volunteered their time in the department.

Dr. Annunziata Manna, in September, this oncologist from Italy spent a week in the department volunteering her time.

Dr. Mohamad Radhi, Dr. Christopher Klockau and Joy Bartholomew: In November, this team from Children's Mercy Hospital in Kansas City, MO returned to the department for a week of training and support.

Dr. Zeena Salman, pediatric oncologist from Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center in New York. In December, Dr. Salman, who has been active for over a year in supporting the education of doctors in the department, visited Beit Jala to meet the staff and to start the pediatric palliative care training program for 2016.

In addition, the PCRF continues to provide extensive child life services for children to help improve their social and psychological state during their long-term treatment in the department. These include:

- Birthday Parties: For children who have their birthdays during their treatment in the department, the PCRF crowd funds to support parties in which all children in the department gets gifts and has a part.
- Red Nose Clowns: The PCRF works with this NGO to bring in clowns on a regular basis to the department to entertain the children.
- 3. Story Tellers: We have a story teller who comes to the department to read to the children in their beds or in the playroom, as a way to help them stay happy and interested in the world around them.
- 4. Tutoring: Some of the older children in the department are missing a significant amount of school. Rather than having them have to repeat their academic year again, the PCRF sponsors tutors to come to the department to provide them help in their studies so they can continue where they left off before their disease.
- 5. Year-end Christmas party: The PCRF annually provides a year-end Christmas party for the children in the department where they are given gifts and have a celebration with clowns and others to bring them joy and happiness only a mile from Bethlehem, the birthplace of Jesus.

The Huda Al Masri Healing Garden

Exactly two years after the opening of the Huda Al Masri Pediatric Cancer Department, we opened a healing garden at the hospital in which children are able to play and enjoy the fun, while also having educational and social activities outside of the department, but within the hospital walls. This garden is the first and only of its kind in Palestine and is a great addition to the healing process for our children there.

The Gaza Strip

On January 1, the PCRF initiated a project to start the building of Gaza's first and only pediatric cancer department at the Pediatric Specialized Hospital. Hundreds of children each year in Gaza are in need of cancer care, and many are not able to travel out of Gaza for treatment due to the political situation, as well as due to economics. The need for a department there is very high and our goal is to have one built by the end of 2016. This is a huge humanitarian undertaking and we are optimistic that the dept. will save the lives of many children in Gaza. It will be linked to the department in Beit Jala and the exchange of patients and training for staff will be an ongoing endeavor. The PCRF volunteer consultants working on this project are, below, Dr. Michael Absalon (Cincinnati), Dr. Zeena Salman (New York) and Dr. Mohamed Rahdi (Kansas City).

Dr. Nadim Yusuf Kassem Continuous Education Fund

In 2013, the PCRF launched an initiative through the generous support of the Kassem family, in honor and memory of their great father, to support the training of doctors and nurses from the Gaza and Beit Jala departments outside of the country. In 2015, nearly a dozen doctors and nurses were trained from Beit Jala in the King Hussein Cancer Center in Amman, and four nurses from the Gaza Department were trained in the Huda Al Masri Pediatric Cancer department in Beit Jala.

PCRF Chapters

The PCRF is proud to be a grassroots organization with thousands of volunteers from across the world who dedicate their time and energy to enable us to carry out our humanitarian mission. The foundation of the PCRF stems from our chapters, which are active in North and South America, the Middle East, Africa, and Europe. Without their dedication and support, the PCRF would not exist.

"Being a PCRF volunteer for the past 8 years has been a gift. My life has been immeasurably enriched by this life-saving organization whose commitment to help more and more children doesn't diminish - it just keeps expanding. I'm so proud to be a part of PCRE."
